

REMARKS

The above-identified application is United States application serial number 09/721,012 filed on November 21, 2000. Claims 1-34 and 50-62 are pending. Claims 35-49 are canceled. Claims 1-34 and 50-62 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wynblatt et al. (U.S. Pat. No. 6,018,710) (hereinafter "Wynblatt") in view of Wise et al. (U.S. Pat. No. 5844262) (hereinafter "Wise").

Rejection of Claims Under 35 USC §103

Claim 1 includes "an adaptive personalization module operable to monitor the user input during one or more previous sessions with the browser system, and to determine the order for presenting the requested information based on previous user input".

Claim 50 includes "adaptively determining the order for presenting the responsive information based on user input during one or more previous sessions with the mobile audio device".

Applicant respectfully traverses the rejection of the features in Claims 1, 18, and 50 under 35 U.S.C. § 103 over Wynblatt in view of Wise. The Examiner admits that Wynblatt does not disclose an adaptive personalization module operable to...determine the order for presenting the requested information based on previous user input, but then cites (Wise col. 6 line 55 through col. 7 line 20) as teaching these features. The cited portion of Wise discloses returning an unordered list of addresses, and converting the list to an audio menu with instructions for the user to select an item from the menu. (Wise, col. 6 lines 55-67). The user may select the amount of descriptive information recited. Once an item is selected, the requested file is downloaded from a server to a parser, which analyzes the structure and contents of the file. (Wise, col. 7 lines 1-20). The cited portions of Wise do not require monitoring the input from one or more previous sessions, or determining the order for presenting the information based on previous user input. Wise discloses an UNORDERED list, not an ordered list. Claims 1, 18, and 50 are therefore distinguishable from Wynblatt and Wise, both alone and in combination, for at least the foregoing reasons. Claims 2-17, 19-34, and 51-62 depend from Claims 1, 18, and 50, respectively, and include additional features that further distinguish them from the cited references.

For at least the foregoing reasons, allowance of Claims 1-34, and 50-62 is respectfully requested.

CONCLUSION

Applicant believes Claims 1-34 and 50-62 are in form for allowance and a notice to that effect is solicited. In the event it would facilitate prosecution of this application, the Examiner is invited to telephone the undersigned at (949) 251-0250.
